About Jamie

Jamie Huntley was a La Jolla, CA native who took up the sport of ice hockey as a youth. She played competitively in Southern California, and was given an opportunity to play collegiate hockey for Elmira College in Elmira, NY. During her time at Elmira, she attended the NCAA tournament 3 times, and was a leader on her team, including still holding the all time record for most penalty minutes accrued over the course of a season.

After college, she returned to San Diego, and taught skating to youth at the Kroc Center Ice Arena. Jamie also became a high level official, and eventually was awarded the opportunity to represent the USA at multiple IIHF (International Ice Hockey Federation) events, including multiple world championships. She was on the short list to attend the 2022 Winter Olympics in Beijing, China as an official.

Jamie was also a dedicated police officer, and eventually a detective with the San Diego Police Department. She met her husband Ryan when they were in the police academy together, and the two were an incredible couple to be around.

With all of these responsibilities, Jamie was also a coach in for the San Diego Angels girls ice hockey program. She mentored dozens of girls that had the same aspirations that she once had when she was their age. Her teams included a 12u team, a 14u team, and a 19u team. Multiple players that she coached have moved on to play in college.

On June 4, 2021, Coach Jamie and her husband Ryan Park, both San Diego Police Detectives, were tragically killed by a wrong way driver on the freeway in southern San Diego county.

This scholarship is in place to help promote the positive influences Jamie had on the community, and to assist young women that are now aspiring to be what she once was... a young female athlete with drive, determination, and aspirations of greatness.
